OVER A SCORE KILLED

EXPLOSION OF GAS IN A WEST VIRGINIA MINE FATAL TO TWENTY-ONE MEN.

MANY PERSONS IN THE VICINITY THOUGHT AN EARTHQUAKE HAD OCCURRED.

Bluefields, W. Va., Jan. 5.-Twenty one miners were killed in an explosion of the mine gas in the shaft of the Cooper Mine company at Coaldale, W. Va., at noon. Up to midnight only one body had been recovered. Immediately following the explosion, which was heard for several miles, rescue parties set to work to explore the wrecked ern railway and is fifteen miles west of Bluefields. It is in Mercer county and wire facilities are inadequate.

There were three white and eighteen colored men entombed and no hope is held out that any of them escaped

The explosion was of terrible force, and caused great excitement in the surrounding country, many believing an earthquake had occurred.

The mining cars and most of the property used in the mines are supposed to have been blown to pieces. At 5:30 o'clock p. m. the body of one of the miners, H. C. Conrad, was discovered some hundred feet away from the mine entrance, so mutilated that he is almost unrecognizable All hope of recovering alive the entombed miners has been shattered by the pouring forth of gases from the different entries. If the twenty-one men were not all killed instantly by the explosion it is believed they must have succumbed to the great accumulation of gas following the explosion. Great crowds were attracted by the soon began work. They were helpless to accomplish much on account of the smoke and gas, although the big fans are working with full capacity.

The Coaldale operation is owned and operated by the Cooper Brothers. The Coaldale plant is considered one of the best operations in the field.

The following are the dead and their bodies, with the exception of Conrad, are still buried in the mine:

J. W. Larne, W. Larne, Jim Sluss, Laraz Aladar, Anthony Bruce, H. C. Conrad, Silas White, John Patterson, Gus Harris, W. T. Sullivan, William Price, William Ward, Walter Gwinn, Siph Gray, Sterling Williams, Albert Barnum, Nathan Hairston, William Curry, Silas Harris, June Kelly and Lee Price.

DISTRESSING INCIDENT.

Woman Carried From White House After Creating a Scene.

Washington, Jan. 5 .- A distressing scene was enacted at the White House executive offices during the day, in which a woman was carried screaming from the building because she refused to leave without resort to force. About 1 o'clock a handsomely attired woman, apparently about fifty years of age, entered the executive offices and inquired for Secretary Loeb. Through a messenger she sent her was engrazed the name, Mrs. Miner Morris, and written beneath in ink, was a hotel address.

Mrs. Morris is the wife of Dr. Miner Morris of this city, and is a younger sister of Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on military affairs. About 1900 Dr. Morris was appointed a clerk in the office of the surgeon general, and in April, 1902, he was discharged. The reasons were not specifically stated in the official record. Secretary Loeb was busy and sent Assistant Secretary Barnes to see the woman, who said she wanted to see President Roosevelt and have him reinstate her husband. Mr. Barnes told her that the president had nothing to do with such subjects and he advised her to take up the matter with the head of the department from which her husband had been discharged. But Mrs. Morris insisted on seeing the president, and became so insistent that Secretary Barnes told her that as she was creating a scene she had better depart quietly or she would be ejected by force. She dared anyone to put her out, but after again refusing to depart quietly, secret service men partly dragged and partly carried her out to the sidewalk, despite her strug-

She was taken in a wagon to the house of detention, from which she was later released. She was then examined as to her sanity and found to be sane and was set free. Mrs. Mor-

PROMINENT MAN WAS HELD.

Placed in the Lockup in Connection With Murder Case.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 5,-Allan Maxcy Hiller, brother-in-law of Charles A. Edwards, the New York man who was shot to death in a mysterious manner Tuesday night while at the home of Charles A. Hiller, another brother-in-law, at 117 College street, at night was ordered placed in the lockup at police headquarters by Coroner Mix. The coroner explained that Mr. CONCUSSION WAS TERRIFIC Hiller was simply held without bail as the inquest is not completed. This action was taken at the end of a five hours' hearing at the coroner's office. Mr. Hiller was there when the order was given to Detective Sergeant Ward to take him to police headquarters.

Erliss R. Irvine, counsel for Mr. Hiller, accompanied him to police headquarters. The latter walked calmly to the stationhouse, but on reaching that place, began to gesticulate wildly and to talk irrationally. He appeared on the point of collapse from the mental and nervous strain undergone by him during the past thirty-six hours.

A. Maxcy Hiller is one of New Haven's best known men and is connected by blood and marriage ties with many of the aristocratic families of Connecticut. The violent death of Mr. Edwards, who married Mr. Hiller's only sister, also comes equally close Coaldale is a mining town situated to families which are intimately conon the line of the Norfolk and West- nected with the upbuilding of Yale university.

Mr. Hiller and his brother, Charles A. Hiller, with a former servant, Miss Benzonas, were called into the inquest by Coroner Mix and for five hours they were subjected to a rigid examination, The line of inquiry was almost entirely into the affairs of the Hiller family, centering upon the reported trouble between A. Maxcy Hiller, his brother, Charles, and his sister, Mrs. Edwards, wife of the victim of the shooting.

It was determined by the autopsy held during the afternoon that Mr. Ed. wards died from a bullet wound which could not have been self-inflicted.

It had been found that not only was there a bitter disagreement between the Hillers and Mrs. Edwards over the distribution of the estate of Mrs. Abigal D. Hiller, but Mrs. Edwards had repeatedly expressed fear that she would die by violence. The weapon used against Mr. Edwards has not

Washington, Jan. 5.-After waiting for almost a year Robert M. Lafollette appeared in the senate when it reconvened during the day after the holiday recess to claim his seat as a senator from Wisconsin and the oath of office was administered to him by Vice President Fairbanks. The ceremony was witnessed by a crowded gallery, which manifested much interest in the ly heightened by the fact that Mr. La Follette was escorted into the senate chamber and to the vice president's desk by Senator Spooner, between whom and Mr. La Follette there has been in recent years a difference of opinion as to party and public policies amounting to personal antagonism. Neither senator displayed any trace of such feeling during the initiation ceremony. They went arm in arm to the vice president's desk, where Mr. La Follette took the oath.

Mrs. La Follette was among the spectators of her husband's initiation into this new sphere of public duty.

The senate discussed at some length a proposition to reprint a magazine article by Mr. Newlands and also a resolution for the regulation of senate patronage. Both were adopted.

There was a constant dull aching in my back and the kidney secretions were irregular and distressing. From both these causes my rest was broken at night and in the morning I was usually languid and all tired out. ANNUAL MEETING

Report of Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Long Lake Farmer's Insurance Company

The regular annual meeting of the Long Lake Farmer's Mutual Insurance Company was held Tuesday, January 2nd, at the Bouck school house south of town. The report of the secretary-treasurer shows a steady and substantial growth during the past year, the company having nearly doubled its membership and also the amount of insurance in force since January 1, 1905.

The company is authorized to do business in 42 townships in Crow Wing and Cass counties, and their risks now aggregate, in round numbers $100,000. They charge to enter simply a policy fee of $1.00, and 15 cents per $100 for five years. The money to pay losses remains in the farmer's pocket until his neighbor needs it. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President-Anton Weber, Long Lake. Sec. Treas.-J. F. Smart, Long Lake. Board of Directors-P. S. Taylor, K. Nesheim and Wm. Gildart, Long Lake; J. W. Fallon, Fred Nubbe and Frank Kienow, Daggete Brook; Chas. Clark, Maple Grove: August Holst, Township 134-28 and Gus Wachholz, Platte Lake.

It may not be generally known what township mutuals really are or what they are doing. A glance at the insurance commissioner's report for 1904 shows 147 such companies doing business in the state with total amount of insurance in force, 176 millions; and the average cost for $100 of insurance was only 17 cents to cover both losses and expenses. Morrison county has four with risks aggregating $1,066,380. These figures show that Township companies are writing a large proportion of all the farm business.

Commissioner T. D. O'Brien has this to say personally in his report: "The success of this class of companies, which do business exclusively on farm property, has been phenomenal. They operate in a limited territory, where all risks are familiar to the officers of the companies and the moral hazard is practically eliminated. The expence rate is low and the farmers are securing their insurance practically at cost. These companies have actually saved millions of dollars to the farmers."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"The Black Crook" will be seen at the Brainerd opera house tomorrow night and of the production the Duluth News Tribune says:

"The Black Crook", as revived at the Lyceum last night, kept a well-filled house in good humor for three hours. All that has been said for it, it realized, and for pretty scenery, comely girls and tunefulness it has the average musical farce skinned a mile. The whole show is built on jig time music, and for well-trained ballet, varied figures and quick scenes it has a little spot all its own in modern stagedom.

"The principals, all of whom are ade-Supt. of Sunday School-Rev. E. A. quate, were selected for their singing voices, rather than their ability to read. but, even so, their interpretation of the lines was up to the average. The sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor," sung by four voices, proved to be exceedingly well in hand, and the stage setting and evolutions of the ballet through this fine number were a treat to the eye.

"The audience was comprised chiefly of men and children. Both seemed happy. Bursts of childish laughter and treble conversation greeted the fairies and the graceful evolutions of the dancers. A deeper, but not less sincere laugh greeted the efforts of the joke makers, although some of their humor was obscure."

"THE MOONSHINERS DAUGHTER"

"The Moonshiners Daughter" will play at the Brainerd opera house on Monday, Jan. 8. To those theatre goers who enjoy a clean wholesome play with lots of good comedy and specialties "The Moonshiners Daughter" seems like the thing. Up to this season they have always had two companies touring the country. One company playing the The papers were full of the accounts of cities and the other the one night stands. But this season they have decided to put out one company only, and the company that plays here is the one that played the cities last season and numbers fourteen people, carrying all their own scenery.
